Summary

Lead Full Stack Engineer and Cloud Architect with 8+ years delivering scalable, cloud-native solutions across financial services, public sector, healthcare, and aviation. I lead engineering teams, set technical direction, and turn complex business requirements into production-ready systems. Certified across AWS, Alibaba Cloud, Google Cloud, data engineering, and infrastructure automation, with hands-on experience in serverless architecture, DevOps, and enterprise application development.

Experience

Accenture

2021–Present

Custom Software Engineering Associate Manager · Singapore

- Led the architecture and delivery of enterprise-scale serverless and generative AI applications on AWS (Lambda, AppSync, CDK, DynamoDB, Amplify, Bedrock, SageMaker) at client sites
- Drove technical strategy and engineering decisions, translating aviation business requirements into scalable production systems
- Designed and delivered full-stack solutions including an LLM-based document classification pipeline, RFID showcase systems, mobile wayfinding applications, and e-commerce platforms
- Served as primary technical liaison between engineering and business teams, aligning delivery with operational requirements and passenger experience goals
- Spearheaded infrastructure automation, CI/CD pipeline implementation, and knowledge transfer programmes to enable client self-sufficiency

Whale Cloud

2019–2021

Software Delivery Engineer · Singapore

- Delivered enterprise-grade Business Intelligence dashboards using Alibaba Cloud ecosystem (Dataphin, DataWorks, QuickBI, DataV) across multiple client engagements
- Recognised by Alibaba Cloud as a subject matter expert; invited to conduct technical sharing sessions on DataV platform capabilities
